A special meeting was held virtually to discuss the need and purpose of photographic education at San Diego City College and its usefulness within our region. Members agree that our coursework, degree, certificates, and individual courses all contribute to the successful transition from student to working, professional photographer. Our list of very successful freelance and commercial photographers grows every year. Our committee reviewed and approved the proposed programs:

- Certificate of Achievement in Photography Darkroom Studies
- Certificate of Achievement in Photography Digital Studies

Members agree that certificates proposed provide our students with skills that lead to employment prior to obtaining the associate degree in Photography. Freelance employment and portfolio building can begin at completing these program awards.
